

Atlantic Realty JV Buys Plaza America Shopping Center

A joint venture of New York-based Angelo, Gordon & Co. and Vienna, VA-based Atlantic Realty Companies, Inc. has purchased Plaza America Shopping Center in Reston, Virginia.

Collins C. Ege of Jones, Long, LaSalle brought Atlantic Realty and Angelo, Gordon & Co. together.

Plaza America Shopping Center opened in 1995. Atlantic Realty developed and built the center, and Atlantic Realty has managed the property since that time. The center includes more than 164,000 square feet of national and local stores and services including Whole Foods, Michael's, Champps, and Fitness First. It is located on Sunset Hills Road in Reston, VA.

"This acquisition provides an opportunity for us to partner with Angelo Gordon, a highly successful real estate firm that shares Atlantic Realty's entrepreneurial spirit," said Adam Schulman, Executive Vice President at Atlantic Realty Companies.

Atlantic Realty Companies owns and manages a portfolio of four million square feet of office and retail space. Angelo, Gordon & Co., headquartered in New York City, is an international investment advisor.
